VOICE OF THE BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY

Vol. 9, No. 138 | Friday, May 3, 1957 | Provo, Utah

Married Student Housing Addition Installation Commences Thursday

The first five units of the 150-home Brigham Young University subdivision for married students arrived on the village site Thursday noon.

All rough grading has been completed at the location of North Campus Addition, a 13-acre area, and some foundations have been completed to receive the new homes.

Homes will be transported from Mountain Home Air Base, Ida., 450 miles distant, six units at a time. Two trips will be made each week.

Ben Lewis, associate treasurer of the University, said bidding will be held this week for the complete placement of the homes and installation of underground utilities. When the homes are in place, top soil which has been stockpiled will be moved back into place. Curbs, gutters, and landscaping will be installed later. Concrete walks and black-topped streets also are planned, according to Mr. Lewis.

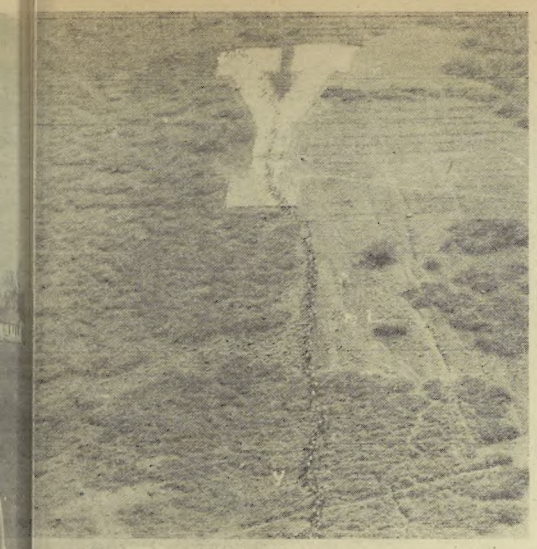
During recent hearings with the Utah County planning board, city council and property owners, Brigham Young University officials promised to construct an attractive little community.

Robert Fowler, Salt Lake architect engaged to inspect the Mountain Home units by BYU, found the original design of the homes, planned by an excellent San Francisco firm, was good, and structure, plumbing, and electrical wiring adequate. The homes were constructed in 1953 and some have never been lived in.

The homes are equipped with standard bathrooms, electric stoves, and refrigerators, electric heaters and aluminum sashes. The University plans to install gas furnaces and improve electric wiring.

Layout of the homes in North Campus will be along curving 34-foot and 25-foot paved streets, with 25-foot setback on 70-foot lots along Seventeenth North.

Homes will be separated by 15 feet and have 20-foot backyards. Some nine acres of the 15-acre subdivision will be open ground. Ample parking space and grassy play areas will be provided.



TRADITION IN ACTION—Another Y Day finds over 5000 students on Y Mountain participating in the annual whitewashing of the Block emblem. The activities besides bucket passing included lunch and various games.

Groups Whitewashed

All BYU wards, except First Ward, who cleaned Wymount Village, plus ToKalon, Tau Sigma, Knight Templars, Cesta Tie, Fidelas, Ri Veda Athenians, Nautilus Hawaiians and Lambda Delta Sigma, swung white-wash buckets up and down the mountain. The Brigadiers mixed the whitewash at the base camp and the Tausigs put it on the block Y.

After work projects were completed, 4,950 students gathered in the Cougar stadium to eat a free lunch and participate in games.

In the greased pig contest Bill Kuhlman, Sacramento, Calif., outdid 100 contestants in downing the pig who had slipped out of the grasp of several would-be victors.

Pie Smeared

Members of the executive council were smeared with pie as a result of a pie eating contest.

In an egg throwing contest, beginning with about 100 couples, Nadine Hall, Portage and Gene Thorne, Reno, Nev., emerged winners.

Wards from Brigham Young University Stake entered students in the three-legged race relay. Second Ward won after a final playoff with Eighth Ward teams. Groups consisting of seven to 14 members tied legs together and had some free-lance races.

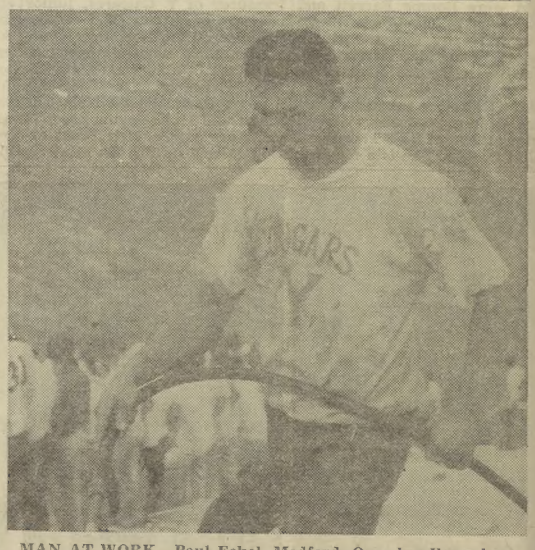
AH SPRING (above)—Whitewishing wasn't the only motive for climbing the mountain. Boys and girls take advantage of the height and spring and looked over awakening Utah Valley. Most mountain climbers came back down with sore muscles and sunburns.
BUCKETS AND BROOMS (left)—Brigadier Social Unit mixes the whitewash for students to carry by bucket brigade up to the big block Y. The Brigs used big sticks to mix the lime and water in huge oil drums.

Y Gleams After Annual Cleaning

CAMPUS HOLIDAY—Over half of the student-body participated in Y Day activities Wednesday. Officials counted 4949 students and faculty members. Students cleaned down-town parks, the swimming pool and the boat harbor. An old bridge was torn down where a new one had been built. The stadium was cleaned and the benches were sanded. The majority of the students climbed Y mountain to form a bucket brigade. After the Y had been whitewashed, it was lit by the Intercollegiate Knights. Dress for the day was blue jeans and sweat shirts. By the time everyone came back down at noon for a lunch of frankfurters and beans, clothes were spotted by white-wash, but it did not cover up the spirit of the day. After the well-received lunch, games such as chasing a greased pig and egg throwing were competed in by many of the climbers.

ALWAYS PREPARED—With Boy Scout preparedness ,these Red Cross workers are on hand for an emergency. No casualties occurred on the mountain. Darrell Walker, studentbody second vice president, suffered a minor cut on the forehead during the games when he was hit by a hose. Other than that the only injuries were sunburns.



MAN AT WORK—Paul Eckel, Medford, Ore., handles a hose in helping to clean the Y. Dressed in "grubbies," Eckel started with the caravan of students from the Cougar Stadium at 7:30 a.m. After a day in the hot sun, he with other students danced at the Y Day dance in the Heritage Halls parking lot.

"Mamselles" Marilyn Christensen and Program Bureau Chairman - husband Winston Christensen, presently are sharing interest in the progress of the Mamselles' first record release.

Mrs. Christensen is one of the four Brigham Young University coeds originally known as the Sophomores, now the Mamselles, whose first disc was marketed two weeks ago.

Tour Meeting

The couple met on the 1955 Delta Phi Tour, "where she started getting interested in me at a street meeting in Paintsville, Ky.," said Christensen. The returned missionary was sidewalk preaching between shows at the time.

After the tour, they started dating and were married a year later, Sept. 4, 1956, in the Salt Lake Temple of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Christensen was born in Oak City and later attended Delta High School. He was active on football, basketball, and track teams, in addition to singing in choruses. He was also elected studentbody president.

Sang Young

The distaff side of the Christensen family started singing professionally as a child with her two sistsrs. Although she was born in Los Angeles, Calif., her home at this time was Pasadena, Calif.

The Christensens are both in the BYU A Cappella Choir, and Marilyn has been a soloist with the group for four years.

The Christensens expect to be awarded their degrees this June. He is majoring in industrial management, while she is an applied music major.

Schedules Programs

Christensen is presently employed in the BYU Public Relations office scheduling all Student Program Bureau shows, in addition to being bureau chairman.

Since both have always been interested in music, it is only natural they share the enthusiasm for the potential success of the Mamselles' record. And, although he is only an interested observer, Christensen is as avid a follower of the record's progress as the girls themselves.

Since the record is already in the Top Ten in the Ohio area, its progress should be interesting to watch.

As for Married Couples Week at BYU beginning Monday, Christensen feels "We too often forget activities after marriage, so it is about time married couples have a chance to get together."

In his own home life, he and Marilyn share their interests and activities so closely, they are virtually always together—even on tours.

History Faculty Plans Banquet For Graduates, Major Students

Students who are outstanding in history and graduating history students will be honored during an annual history banquet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in Smith banquet hall.

Sponsored by the Department of History, the banquet is in keeping with university policy to honor outstanding students, according to Dr. R. Kent Fielding, history professor.

All persons who plan to attend the event should purchase their tickets from the history department, said Fielding.

An address on "The West in American Literature" will be given by William D. Mulder, chairman of Department of American Studies, University of Utah.

New 'Star' Over Provo Due To Passing Comet

Law enforcement officers have been flooded with calls from central Utah residents who reported flying saucers and flaming jet planes—but the night sky fireworks were the calling card of a comet.

Dr. Delbert McNamara, assistant professor of physics at Brigham Young University, said the phenomenon was the Arend-Roland comet, named after two Belgians who discovered it last November. It is probably the brightest seen by the naked eye since the famed Haley's comet streaked through the skies in 1910.

Astronomers say the comet will be visible in the area for several days.

TRACK STALWART — Hal Werner, senior javelin ace, will be among Cougar Thinclads who tangle with Utah in Provo Friday and enter the AAU in Salt Lake Saturday.

BYU Tracksters Meet Redskins Here Friday

by Don Thorup
Daily Universe Sports Writer

Cougar spikesters, fresh from their 90-41 rout of Montana last weekend, will tangle with Utah here Friday and travel to Salt Lake City Saturday to participate in the annual Intermountain AAU trackfest.

When the Cats host the Redskins, it will be the only opportunity for BYU track enthusiasts to see the Cougars in a dual meet this season. The meet will get under way at 3 p. m. in Cougar stadium.

Finals of the AAU meet will be held Saturday afternoon, with the time trials taking place in the morning. Field events begin at 2 p. m., the races starting at 2:30 p. m.

The Utes' strongest events are the dashes, bolstered by Kent Christensen. In contrast, the Cats excell in the distance and middistance races.

Christensen is rated by some to be one of the finest sprinters in Utah history. With the Cougars ailing in the century and 220 the "blond flash" should have little competition. The Utes also have strength in the weights, but will find opposition from Gary Merrill and Curtis Brown.

BYU will again be favored to scalp the Redskins, but the Cougars will know they have been in a tough meet.

The AAU meet will attract top athletes from all parts of the country. Participating in this year's meet are Milt Campbell, hurdles; Mike Larabee, 440 yard dash; Charlie Dumas, high jump; Benny Garcia, javelin; and Jerry Prewitt, dashes.

Dumas, Campbell and Garcia were members of the United States Olympic team. Larabee toured Europe with an American track team composed of men who failed to place on the Olympic squad.

Dumas holds the world's record in the high jump and was the first person ever to clear seven feet.

The entire Cougar team will enter the AAU meet, which will be staged on the University of Utah campus.

Baseballers At Utah Friday, Play Utes Here Saturday

by Jack Batchler
Daily Universe Sports Writer

With the Cougar baseball team traveling to Salt Lake City Friday for the first of a two-game home and home series, Coach Jay Van Noy's horsehiders will enter the Skyline Conference's second round of the Western Division.

In the first half the Cats split with each of their opponents (Montana and Utah) and had the Utah State doubleheader called off because of inclement weather.

The Cats will be out to take the game at Salt Lake and then to try and repeat on the home diamond Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

In their only meeting this season the Utes bowed out to BYU in Salt Lake and then came back behind the steady pitching of Ted Berner to hand the Brighams a 7-4 loss in Provo.

In last Saturday's split at Montana pitchers Owen Skousen and Jack Cravens were effective. Van Noy said he will start these men against the Utes.

"I will start Skousen against Ted Berner, and Cravens against anyone Coach Pres Summerhays chooses to use," said Van Noy.

The coach said BYU's fielding and hitting has improved and that the Utes will have to play against a better team than they faced before.

At shortstop Tom Steinke has fielded impressively as has third baseman Norm Christiansen. Catcher Brent Pratley has been a pillar on defense.

Cougar Tennis Team Tangle With Injuns In Provo Friday

Despite a recent 7-0 whitewashing at the hands of Utah, Coach (Buck) Dixon is confident his Brigham Young University tennis team will give the Redskins a "run for their money" when the two rivals meet in a rematch at 1:30 p. m. on the Cougar courts.

Several sections of bleachers have been erected for the convenience of tennis fans.

BYU has a 1-1 record, having skunked Utah State 5-0 week.

Coach Theron Parmelee, Utah's tennis helm for the 32 years, has another strong squad. The Utes are defen their Skyline Championship

With Montana out of t tennis picture this year, B will give its most formida challenge for the Western vision Championship.
